WHO WE ARE

The Voice Sphere is an audio production company, founded by a collective of diverse, experienced, and passionate individuals. Our team of creatives—artists, writers, actors, directors, musicians, and dreamers—lend their talents globally to video games, animation, and creative audio projects.

We use traditional and unconventional approaches to uncover opportunities, pairing exceptional talent with exceptional projects. Individualizing solutions for creative audio projects, we provide a one-stop shop to support the unique needs for artists, studios, and creatives. From industry pros looking to develop original content, to indie artists beginning their first project, we present outside-of-the-box solutions to create ovation-worthy audio!

OUR PHILOSOPHY

We believe in building relationships based on trust, honesty, respect, and integrity—crucial elements needed to kindle win-win experiences. We possess a genuine desire to synergize with like-minded visionaries, through enthusiasm and creativity, to help breathe life into their artistic endeavors.

IGNITE

It started as a simple question: Could a spark of passion ignite a creative bonfire?

A collaboration between voice over and music industry pros on a pop culture indie game inspired the idea. In fact, that's how The Voice Sphere came to be!

We LOVE what we do, and we LOVE what you're doing! From major titles to indie, no matter the scale or scope, we have the passion, dedication to excellence, and know-how to help bring your artistic vision to life.

SYNERGIZE

To synergize means to orchestrate a collaboration, which results in a greater outcome than what either collaborator could individually produce.

We are a diverse, inclusive collective of experienced, creatives, combining our talent and skill with other like-minded artists, creators, and producers to achieve next level results.

We love nothing more than engaging with the visual pioneers, and the next generation of visual storytellers. Whether it's the deeply emotional, the charmingly adorable, the beautifully expressive, the eerily terrifying, the poignantly humorous, or the wildly imaginative, it's the visual arts that inspired many of us to pursue a career in the audio arts.

CREATE

Let the creative spark catch fire!

There are two crucial components to visual storytelling: sight enhanced by sound. We want to help make life easier for creatives who want to develop their own original content and focus on what they do best—visuals and storytelling. By focusing our efforts on producing the audio elements, we save visual creators time and headaches in what might be unfamiliar territory; helping them unify the perfect marriage between sight and sound.

ELEVATE

No matter the story you want to tell, we believe the right audio enhances amazing visuals. Let The Voice Sphere help you elevate the entertainment experience you create!
